DECLARATION OF RANDY S. KERCHO IN SUPPORT OF APPLICANT'S MAIN ACR BRIEF

I, Randy S. Kercho, declare as follows:

1. My name is Randy S. Kercho. I am over the age of 21 years, am fully competent to make this Declaration, and am personally acquainted with the facts stated herein.

I. Professional Background in the Fashion Industry

2. I am the President of Bedrock Brands I, LLC (“Bedrock”). Bedrock is a holding company that invests in fashion and apparel brands, including M Webb LLC (“M Webb”), Clare V. LLC, Steven Alan Operations, LLC, Steven Alan Showroom, LLC, and Mollusk Surf Shops, LLC. I am also a Vice President in Bedrock Manufacturing Company, LLC, which is a holding company that invests in fashion and apparel brands, including Shinola Detroit, LLC and Filson Corporation. I have been active in the fashion industry, either as an investor or as an executive of fashion brands marketed nationwide in the United States or globally, for approximately twenty-five (25) years.

3. Prior to Bedrock, I held various executive-level positions, the last of which was the Executive Vice President of Fossil Group, Inc. from 1992 through 2007. As EVP, I oversaw Fossil Group, Inc.’s operations, finance, accounting, legal, internal auditing, planning and allocations, logistics, distribution and warehousing, sales support, information technology, and investor relations divisions. My duties involved oversight of Fossil Group, Inc.'s subsidiary companies, which included the brands Fossil, Relic, Zodiac, and Michele, in addition to overseeing these subsidiaries' licensing relationships with brands including, among others, Emporio Armani, Diesel, Michael Kors, Marc Jacobs, Disney, and Harley Davidson. Through its own products and through its licensing relationships, Fossil Group, Inc. sold goods globally through all channels of distribution, from luxury to mass-market.

4. As President of Bedrock, I use my fashion, operational, and financial background to mentor and guide the growth of the companies Bedrock invests in across various fashion product categories through various channels of distribution on a global basis. In the course of my career within the fashion industry, I have first-hand experience in brand development, competitive brand analysis, and selection of distribution channels. In addition, I have experience in the related tasks of developing trademarks and strategies for trademark protection, stockkeeping unit review and pricing strategies, line sheet and collection development and merchandising, and web site design and development.

II. Relationship with Marissa Webb and M Webb

5. I was originally introduced to Marissa Webb through Steven Alan Grossman in 2011. Marissa had studied at the Fashion Institute of Technology and had been involved with various fashion brands, with her most recent stint being with apparel brand J. Crew for over 10 years, where she was the head of women's design and accessories. Marissa was instrumental in turning around J. Crew's women's fashion image and had become a well-recognized name in U.S. fashion design. Marissa desired to launch her eponymous label utilizing significantly elevated materials and details than she was able to do at J. Crew and market her products into the upper contemporary/entry-level designer marketplace. Although the apparel industry is very competitive, Bedrock welcomed the opportunity to invest in her independent brand based on Marissa's reputation in the fashion field, commercialism as a designer, her willingness to personally invest cash into the business, as well as her time and expertise and her humble and pleasant personality.

6. My role at Bedrock was to assist Marissa in completely organizing her company, including, but not exclusive to, legal formation, trademarks, office leases, company infrastructure, financial budgeting and recordkeeping, and operating policies and procedures.

7. With my assistance, Marissa organized her company as M Webb LLC in the State of New York in 2011. A true and correct copy of the official record of the New York Department of State's Division of Corporations' Entity Information website reflecting the organization of M Webb LLC is attached hereto as Exhibit 1. M Webb LLC is still organized in good standing with the State of New York.

8. I was closely involved with Marissa in the selection of the company name "M Webb LLC." We selected the name "M Webb" for her company because we wanted a corporate name that closely resembled Marissa Webb's name and hence capitalized on the considerable reputation she had in the U.S. fashion industry. At the same time, we wanted to select a more unisex term that could serve as a corporate home to both men's and women's fashion lines. We initially decided on "M Webb" because it was immediately identifiable as an abbreviation of Marissa Webb's name, and because the abbreviation of "Marissa" to "M" had a more unisex tone, among other reasons.

III. Selection of the MARISSA WEBB and M WEBB marks

9. I was closely involved with Marissa in selecting the trademarks for her intended apparel lines. Our rationale for selecting both marks was similar to our selection of the company name. The mark MARISSA WEBB was selected because it capitalized on Marissa Webb's personal reputation within the U.S. fashion industry and because the use of personal names of fashion designers for their brands is common within the fashion industry.

10. The mark M WEBB was chosen because it was immediately identifiable as an abbreviation of Marissa Webb's name and therefore also capitalized on the reputation she had built up in her personal name in the U.S. fashion industry. In addition, the abbreviation of her name was in line with the common practice within the fashion industry for designers to abbreviate complementary fashion lines when their primary line is branded with their first and last name. M Webb also was interested in the possibility of offering a men's clothing line, and we wanted to select a trademark that was relatively unisex and could initially cover women's apparel and later be used for men's apparel. As an alternative, we also considered the mark WEBB, however we dismissed that idea because the name is so common we did not think that we could register it as a trademark or that it would function as a distinctive trademark.

11. I was closely involved in the web strategy for M Webb. We registered the domains <mwebb.com> and <marissa-webb.com> because they were immediately identifiable with Marissa Webb's name and therefore capitalized on her personal reputation as a designer within the U.S. fashion industry. We inserted a hyphen in <marissa-webb.com> because the <marissawebb.com> URL had already been registered by a graphic design agency in Australia.

IV. M Webb's Image and Business

12. M Webb promotes its product lines under the MARISSA WEBB brand to reflect feminine elegance with a masculine edge in accord with the image and reputation of Marissa

Webb herself. Apparel under the MARISSA WEBB brand targets female customers in the upper-contemporary/entry-level designer price point demographic. Accordingly, apparel under the MARISSA WEBB brand is priced for a higher-end female consumer with a sophisticated appreciation of material and quality, with each piece costing up to several hundred dollars to over a thousand dollars.

13. M Webb has used its MARISSA WEBB mark continuously since 2012 and sells its clothing and accessories under the mark through its website and through high-end retailers and boutiques across the United States, including Intermix, Barneys, Neiman Marcus, Viola Lovely, Bergdorf Goodman, Pas De Deux, Latrice, 20Twelve, Canary, Mario's, ShopBop, Lyndon's, and MI Place. M Webb does the vast majority of its business through brick-and-mortar retailers.

V. Mappin & Webb Limited and the Dissimilarity of the MAPPIN & WEBB Marks with the M WEBB mark

14. Until Mappin & Webb Limited ("Opposer") initiated this Opposition against M Webb's application for federal registration of its M WEBB mark, I had never heard of Opposer. I would never have associated the M WEBB mark with Opposer, both because the abbreviation of Opposer's Marks to M WEBB is counterintuitive, and because Marissa Webb is a more prominent name in the U.S. fashion market than Opposer. In the course of this proceeding, I have reviewed Opposer's Application Serial No. 85350960 for the mark MAPPIN & WEBB and Application Serial No. 85350965 for MAPPIN & WEBB LONDON ("Opposer's Marks" or the "MAPPIN & WEBB Marks").

15. I was surprised to learn that Opposer claims that consumers would be inclined to abbreviate the MAPPIN & WEBB Marks to M WEBB or otherwise perceive the "M" in the M WEBB mark as an abbreviation of "Mappin" in the MAPPIN & WEBB Marks. This notion is contrary to my own behaviors as a consumer and my knowledge of the abbreviations of brand names within the fashion industry in which I work. My own practice, and the practice I have observed in the marketplace, is to abbreviate brand names to focus on the more unique of a series of words. It immediately struck me that “Mappin” is a far more unique word than “Webb,” and that if consumers are inclined to abbreviate the MAPPIN & WEBB Marks at all, they would first abbreviate it according to Mappin & Webb’s own marketing that I have seen submitted in support of Opposer’s brief – “MW” – and otherwise by abbreviating it to “Mappin & W,” “Mappin W,” or “M&W.”

16. Furthermore, it has been my experience as an executive in the fashion industry that brand abbreviations are selected and popularized by the brand owner, and that the specific abbreviation selected and marketed by the brand owner is generally embraced by its consumers. Having reviewed Opposer’s briefing, it is clear that Opposer markets its MAPPIN & WEBB brand under the abbreviation “MW.” Since Opposer has marketed itself in that way, I find it likely that consumers will abbreviate their name accordingly rather than independently arriving at abbreviations such as “M Webb.”

17. During July 2015, I consulted common online reference publications, United States census data, and search engines regarding the abbreviation of Opposer’s Marks and the popularity of the “Mappin” and “Webb” surnames, including the below-referenced websites, documents, and searches. I consulted the acronyms and abbreviations dictionary All Acronyms found at the publicly available website <allacronyms.com> for the meaning of the abbreviation “M&W” and “M Webb” during July 2015. The search results for “M&W” on <allacronyms.com> reflects that it is a recognized abbreviation of “Mappin & Webb.” Opposer’s Marks did not appear as a recognized abbreviation “M Webb,” while M Webb’s

MARISSA WEBB mark appeared on the fourth page of the “M Webb” search results. True and correct copies of the “Mappin & Webb” entry for the “M&W” abbreviation search is attached as Exhibit 2, and a true and correct copy of the first four (4) results pages for the “M Webb” abbreviation search are attached as Exhibit 3.

18. I looked up the United States Census Bureau’s genealogy statistics from the 2000 United States Census – the last census for which this data is available online – at the publicly available website <census.gov/topics/population/genealogy.html>. A true and correct copy of that website is attached as Exhibit 4. I then accessed the Frequently Occurring Surnames data from the Census 2000 link and downloaded the Top 1000 Names file. True and correct copies of that website and file are attached as Exhibits 5 and 6. The file shows that “Webb” is the 137th most common surname in the 2000 U.S. Census, and that “Mappin” does not even make the list. (Ex. 6 at 3.)

19. I then conducted Google searches for the word “Mappin” and the word “Webb” in isolation at the webpage www.google.com. True and correct copies of the first Google results page for each of these searches are attached as Exhibits 7 and 8. The total results shown for “Mappin” – 553,000 – were dwarfed by the total results shown for “Webb” – 133,000,000. M Webb’s website appeared on the fifth page of the Google search results for “Webb,” whereas Opposer did not appear within the first ten (10) pages, which is the extent to which I looked. The true and correct copy of the fifth results page for the “Webb” Google search is included within Exhibit 8.

20. I also investigated the uniqueness of the words “Mappin” and “Webb” in isolation within the fashion industry by conducting Google searches for the search strings “Mappin fashion” and “Webb fashion.” Again, the total results shown for “Mappin fashion” – 134,000 – were dwarfed by the total results shown for “Webb fashion” – 49,400,000. True and correct copies of the first Google results page for each of these searches are attached as Exhibits 9 and 10. In the search for “Webb fashion,” numerous results appear on the first page for Marissa Webb, while none appear related to Opposer.

21. I also conducted Google searches for the search strings “Mappin leather” and “Webb leather.” The total results shown for “Mappin leather” – 106,000 – were far fewer than the results for “Webb leather” – 1,350,000. While Opposer appears several times on the first results page for “Mappin leather,” it does not appear at all on the first results page for “Webb leather,” which is the extent to which I looked. The MARISSA WEBB brand, however, appears as the first result on the “Webb leather” search results page. True and correct copies of the first Google search results page for each of these searches are attached as Exhibits 11 and 12.

22. In addition, I conducted a Google search for the search string “M Webb in New York.” I chose New York not only because it is a major fashion center, but also because evidence submitted in support of Opposer’s Main ACR Brief emphasizes meetings with retailers in New York and U.S. travelers purportedly traveling through JFK airport. Among the first ten (10) pages of results, which is the extent to which I looked, MARISSA WEBB appears as the second result, whereas Opposer does not appear at all. A true and correct copy of the first ten (10) Google results pages for this search is attached as Exhibit 13. I later broadened the Google search to simply “M Webb,” and while M Webb appeared on the third results page, Opposer did not appear on the first ten (10) pages, which is the extent to which I looked. A true and correct copy of the first ten (10) Google results pages for this search is attached as Exhibit 14.

23. I then searched the online Yellow and White Pages to see whether “Mappin” was a more unique name than “Webb” among individuals and businesses in New York, NY. I chose

New York for the same reasons I did for the “M Webb in New York” Google search. The online Yellow Pages at the publicly available website <yellowpages.com> showed 83 total results for “Mappin” in New York, NY, but none of the business names on the first results page actually included the word “Mappin” itself. A true and correct copy of the first results page of this Yellow Pages search is attached as Exhibit 15. The Yellow Pages showed 77 results for the word “Webb,” and virtually every business on the first results page incorporated the word “Webb” in its name. A true and correct copy of the first results page of this Yellow Pages search is attached as Exhibit 16. The online White Pages at the publicly available website <whitepages.com> showed 67 matches for the name “Mappin” in New York, NY, and none of the names for New York, NY on the first results page reflected the name “Mappin” as spelled by Opposer. A true and correct copy of the first results page of this White Pages search is attached as Exhibit 17. The White Pages search for “Webb” showed 328 results, and almost every single name on the first results page reflected the name “Webb” as spelled by Opposer and M Webb. A true and correct copy of the first results page of this White Pages search is attached as Exhibit 18.

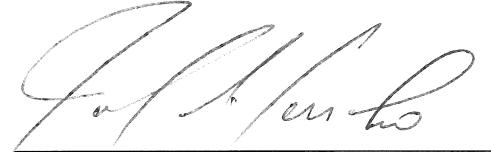

24. The printed publication and internet materials shown in Exhibits 2 through 3 reflect that “M Webb” is not a recognized abbreviation of Opposer’s Marks. Furthermore, the official records, printed publications, and internet materials shown in Exhibits 4 through 18 reflect that “Mappin” is a far more unique and uncommon word than “Webb,” and Exhibits 9 through 12 reflect that this is true within the fashion industry as well. These materials affirm my own experience in the fashion industry and as a consumer that consumers are unlikely to abbreviate MAPPIN & WEBB to “M Webb” or otherwise perceive the “M” in the M WEBB mark as an abbreviation of “Mappin” in Opposer’s Marks.

25. There are no instances of actual confusion to my knowledge between Opposer and M Webb, whether between Opposer and the MAPPIN & WEBB Marks on the one hand and M Webb's corporate name, the personal name of Marissa Webb, the MARISSA WEBB mark, or the M WEBB mark on the other.

26. Having reviewed Opposer's Marks, as a consumer and as a long-standing figure in the U.S. fashion industry, I find them dissimilar to the M WEBB mark in appearance, sound, connotation, and commercial impression.

I declare under penalty of perjury pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746 that the foregoing statements are true and correct to the best of my knowledge.

Executed in Dallas, Texas on the 28 day of July, 2015.

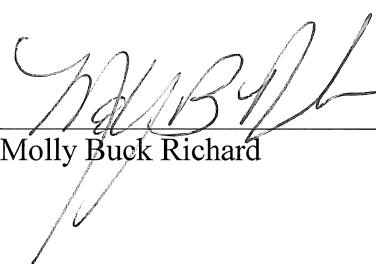

RANDY S. KERCHO
